Call Grayling Meeting On Fish Law Changes

There will be a public hearing held by the Conservation Department, to be held September 23 at 7 p. m. at the County Courthouse. The topics to be discussed are the proposed changes in fishing regulations in regard to the South Branch of the AuSable and the mainstem of the AuSable below the power line below the McKinley Bridge. The Department's recommendations are for artificial lures only, 5 a.m. to 2 p. m. per day, and the South Branch the proposed change is to "artificial lures" instead of "artificial flies only." Other topics discussed would be the closure of season on northern pike from March 1 to May 14 instead of the present closure from March 15 to the last Saturday in April, and the increase of size limit on muskellunge from 30 inches to 40 inches.

Fall Arrives Next Tuesday, September 22nd

ANN ARBOR — Autumn will begin at 7:17 p. m. Tuesday (September 22).

The sun's apparent arrival at the autumnal equinox marks the opening of the season when the night becomes longer than the day. University of Michigan astronomer Hazel D. Lasky explains.

"Since June 21, the sun has been steadily moving southward, and on the day of the equinox it will cross the equator," Professor Lasky says. "The sun will rise and set almost exactly at the east and west points, and the day and night will be said to be equal."

"Strictly speaking, however, this is not true," Professor Lasky points out. "Due to refraction of the sun by the earth's atmosphere, the hours when the sun is actually visible on Sept. 22 will exceed the time when the sun is out of sight by nine minutes."

Equal day and night will come on Sept. 23 and, from then on, the day will steadily grow shorter.

Another astronomical highlight of the month:

Five bright planets will be visible between sunset and sunrise. Saturn, rising in the southeast at sunset, is visible the whole night through. Rising around 10 p. m. to the north of east, is bright Jupiter.

Mars and Venus rise in the early morning. On the morning of Sept. 23, seldom seen Mercury will reach its greatest angular distance from the sun and will make its appearance in the east about an hour and one-half before the sun.

Turkey Shoot-Barbeque Huge Success

The Grayling Sportsman's Club Turkey Shoot and Kiwanis-Chicken Barbeque held Sept. 6 at the Sportsman's Club house on the old Lake Road was deemed a huge success. The weather man cooperated and the large crowd attending had a fine time.

In the drawing for the donations to the building fund the winning number 1521 for the first prize, a Bear Kodak bow and a dozen arrows, had no name on the stub. It was decided that the owner of the ticket be allowed 15 days after this issue of the Avalanche to report. Other wise the second winner will receive the prize. The unknown person is to contact Jack Baker at the Triangle Motel.

Art Clough, Jr., was the winner of the 22 Remington automatic, Don Woods the motorized barbeque grill and Dick Russell of South Lyons the Montague Road and South Bend Kool.

In addition to the Turkey Shoot, Moose-ket trap shooting and an archery range were well patronized. The kiddie ride provided for the little ones, seemed to be a big hit too.

The combined clubs wish to thank all who made this affair the success that it was.

Oldest Canoe Livery Has New Owners

The Borchers Canoe Livery, oldest such establishment in the county, has been sold to Raymond Jack Trudgeon, teacher of arithmetic and history in the Grayling Schools. Mr. and Mrs. Trudgeon plan to offer the same services as have been available from the former management.

The Borchers Canoe Livery actually started in the fall of 1935, when Ernest Borchers and Chris Hoessl purchased several canoes and made river trips and guide service available to the public, operating from the former Grayling Greenhouse run by Ernie Borchers and Fred Niederer.

The new venture is recorded in the May 20 issue of the Avalanche, in 1937. Canoes were added and the business grew until Mr. Borchers felt he should devote all of his time to the one enterprise, and in May of 1941 he sold his share of the greenhouse to Mr. Niederer and bought out the livery partnership from Chris Hoessl. He and his family operated the business from that time until his death, in December of 1952.

Mrs. Borchers and Don have carried since that time, being assisted by her daughter and family, John and Barbara Ann Soika, during the summers. Mrs. Borchers and Don plan to finish out this season, and next spring when the new season opens the Trudgeons will be in complete charge. They expect to continue the business under the same name, the Borchers Canoe Livery.

CAR STOLEN IN CITY, FOUND

A vehicle belonging to Harold Root of Route One, Grayling, was stolen while parked on Peninsula Street by a 15 year old boy and a 16 year old girl of Dearborn on September 12. They were picked up by the M. Pleasant State Police on M-55 near Houghton Lake that evening. They had also stolen a car in Dearborn to get here and had abandoned it in Grayling. They were turned over to their parents.

John Moehl, age 22, of St. Louis, Mo., was apprehended by the City Police for excessive speed on Michigan Avenue on September 4. He received a summons and is to appear before Justice Olin Williamson on or before September 11.

Nels P. Olson II was ticketed by the City Police for a traffic violation of reckless driving on August 15th. He appeared before Justice Williamson on September 9th. He pleaded guilty and received a fine and costs of $20.00 or 30 days. Fine paid.

LOCAL MAN'S FATHER DIES AT BIG RAPIDS

Nathan Fay Gould, who would have been 68 on September 24th, was found dead at his home in Big Rapids by his daughter on Friday, September 11, 1964, following an internal hemorrhage. He was born in Oakfield Township near Rockford, Michigan, and attended school there. He had been in electrical and refrigeration work all his life, and for the past 20 years lived in Big Rapids. Survivors are his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Beals, of Cedar Springs, a son, Bud Gould of Grayling, and a brother, Forrest Gould of Rockford.

Funeral services were held at 11 o'clock Monday morning at the Don Vail Funeral Home in Big Rapids, with the Rev. Thurmond Meredith of the Oakfield Methodist church officiating. Mrs. Dale Hatt, who is investigating the possibility of a centennial celebration for Grayling, reports that she has learned that Grayling was first called AuSable. In 1872 it was established by law as the village of Grayling. In 1899 it was attached to Rapid River, and Mrs. Hatt plans to do more research in Kalkaska county. She expressed her thanks to all those who have given her interesting and important information. The response has been very good.

Vikings Open Season at Mio

The Grayling High Viking football team of 1964, open their season this Friday evening when they travel to Mio to take on the Thunderbolts. Under their new head coach, Fraser Dean, the Vikings will give their followers a peek at the new look in Grayling football.

With three weeks of intensive training behind them, the Vikings are in extremely good shape for the "hid tipper" on the new football season. Sporting a new offense, the Okalahoma Split-T, Grayling hopes this year to give the fans many a thrill of a long run to score and also the breathless sensation of a aerial thrust that can open up a game.

Only one player will not be able to play Friday. He is Bill Tinker who severely cut a finger on a summer job. He will not see action for a week or so. Dan Feldhauser who suffered a facial cut requiring stitches in a scrimmage game with Roscommon last Saturday morning is expected to be ready Friday.

In last Saturday morning's scrimmage game at Roscommon, the Vikings looked good in spots but their play was a little flat. Losing Feldhauser on the fourth play of the game and going without the services of Tinker hurt the Vikings' chances somewhat but they still managed to play a respectable game against the speed of the Bucks.

Coach Dean on Monday afternoon of this week named a partial starting lineup for the Friday opener. At ends will be Pete Eunck and Dave Nethers, a sophomore transfer from Ohio, who has looked very good in practice; tackles will be Ed Robertson and Dan Feldhauser; one guard spot will be handled by Randy Thompson with the other post still not decided. Starting at center will be Mickey Stillwagon with Richard Smith at quarterback, John, Sorenson and Curt Feldhauser at halfbacks and Ron Lovell at fullback.

Brothers Steve Englund and Dave Englund will move into the defensive line when the Vikings are not handling the ball, Coach Dean said.

Little is known of the strength of the Mio Thunderbolts this season. Even though Mio is a Class D school, they have always come up with well coached athletic teams in the past. There is no reason to suspect that this year their gridiron eleven will be any exception. The Vikings will be in for a hard fought contest.

Michigan Con Advises To Phone For Meters

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company today advised local residents having natural gas piped into their homes that they should notify the company as soon as piping has been installed and an appliance connected.

Robert L. McIntosh, area manager for Michigan Consolidated, said the company will not install a meter in a home or commercial building until it has been notified by the occupant that he is ready for service.

McIntosh pointed out that, with cool weather coming on and with the large number of new customers here, the utility will not be able to cope with an unusual rush of last minute requests. He said that the company should be able to accommodate all of its new customers with a minimum of delay if they would only call as soon as their piping is installed and an appliance connected.

Residents of Grayling and Frederic can place their meter order with the area office in Grayling by call 348-6581.

McIntosh said Michigan Consolidated is anxious to install meters as promptly as possible, "but we can't do it without the cooperation of our customers. Heating and appliance dealers are not responsible for calling us," he added. "Only the customer can order a meter."

McIntosh also noted that for emergency night service, customers should use the same number as indicated above (348-6581).

Home Extension Lesson Offered

Mrs. Kip Papendick, Crawford County Home Extension Chairman, announced this week that there would be a meeting on September 24 at the Grayling Town Hall from 1 to 3:30 p. m. This meeting is open to all members and leaders of the home extension study groups, as well as to non-members who are interested to attend.

A lesson will be given by Anita Dean, Specialist on Food and Nutrition from Michigan State U., Lansing. She will present the lesson, "The World Must Eat," and there will be discussion of the problems of food and population, obstacles that must be overcome and ways in which it may be accomplished. The question of why homemakers should study these problems is to be answered.

The chairman called attention to the fact that meetings this year are for all home extension members, instead of just leaders, and welcomed other interested persons. A large turnout is hoped for.

1964 County School Enrollment Sets Another New High Mark

At the close of the first week of school the 1964-65 county school enrollment has hit a new high. Although the official enrollment figures are not taken until the fourth Friday after Labor Day, the figures available on September 11th from County Supt. of Schools Frank Bond place the overall county enrollment at 1343 as compared to the official 1963-64 enrollment of 1312. As it will be three weeks before the official enrollment is taken, these are not comparable figures but the upward trend is clearly indicated.

The biggest increase is in the Grayling Public schools where the increase is 46 over last year, with 445 in the high school and 508 in the grades for a total of 953. Grayling St. Mary's shows a decrease of 11 with 135 pupils as against 146 last year. Frederic School enrollment is 203, with 77 in the high school and 126 in the grades, a decrease of 18 from last year's 221.

A total of 32 students is presently counted at the Feldhauser school, as compared to 30 last year, an increase of 2, in kindergarten through 8th grade.

The Beaver Creek school has again been closed by the Beaver Creek School Board this fall and the 41 students are being transported to Grayling.

Normally more students enroll between now and the official enrollment dates, so an even greater increase can be expected by then.

Water Resources Review

Statement of Conditions for the month of August 1964 from the Lansing Michigan office.

MICHIGAN: Water levels in key observation wells continued to decline and remain well below average. Of the ten key wells reported, 6 were at record lows and 4 were near record low.

The key wells used for this review are located in areas of little or no pumping effect and reflect changes in aquifer storage primarily in response to natural conditions. Records of ground-water levels that reflect natural climatic conditions serve as a basis for comparison with records of levels that are affected by pumping withdrawals.

Historically Important . . .

Everyone is saying that this year's presidential campaign will be the hardest fought of modern times. That seems a certainty, in the light of the characters and positions of President Johnson and Senator Goldwater. Both are politicians of the driving type, and neither gives quarter when matters of power, influence and principle are at stake.

Along with this, a great many informed people think that the election may be the most historically important of the century. For, in their view, out of it could come political realignments that would vastly change the political complexion of the country and determine for a long time to come the course we are to take, both in domestic matters and our attitude toward world affairs.

The big question has to do with what is called the mainstream of present-day American thinking. It is the question that, in the opinion of the conservative groups which make up the dedicated hard-core of Goldwater supporters, the American people have not had a chance to answer. They argue that the voters have not been given a clear-cut choice between two sharply different philosophies of government. For the most part, their argument continues, there has been an excess of "metaphysics" on the part of Republican candidates, and this has alienated great numbers of voters and played into the hands of the Democrats. The upshot, as they see it, has been the gradual development of a welfare state government which is not wanted by a majority of our citizens.

Next November should certainly tell how much truth there is or isn't in this position. The President and the Senator provide, in their policies, about as broad a difference as anyone could ask. That difference extends to every issue of real consequence. The Administration holds that our intermingled defense and foreign policies are sound and productive; the other side charges timidity, indecision and retreat, and finds grave defects in our military programs. The President is unequivocally committed to the new civil rights bill; Senator Goldwater voted against it -- not because he opposes racial equality, but on constitutional grounds. Mr. Johnson solidly backs major extensions of federal aid and relief projects of assorted kinds; Mr. Goldwater holds that these, generally, are wrong in principle and ineffective and excessively wasteful in practice. The rights, obligations and responsibilities of the states are very precious to the Senator, and he sees the increase of federal power as a menace to our very system of government. The President disagrees. Both men and parties, of course, are in agreement in their opposition to the communist tide, but there is a world of difference in the policies they urge to contain and defeat it.

There is no doubt that the Goldwater drive is making deep inroads in the once solidly Democratic South, or that the Democrats are picking up strength in some areas that were once dependably Republican.

Indeed, it's been a long time since there were so many political question marks on the horizon, or when it was so difficult to analyze the hopes, beliefs and loyalties of the electorate. And the stakes -- not just for the parties and the candidates, but for us all -- are great beyond measure.

In Michigan... after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair--beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom--and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Michigan... beer goes with fun, with relaxation

Meeting opened at 5:10 by President Alef.

It was moved by Alef and seconded by Wirt that Frank Bond's resignation be accepted with sincere regrets and that his letter of resignation be made a permanent record of this meeting.

Mr. Jack Alef, President Crawford County Chamber of Commerce, Grayling, Michigan Dear Jack:

Due to the fact that I will be out of town a great deal I feel that, for the best interest of both the Chamber and myself, I should resign from the Board of Directors. I have enjoyed the opportunity to serve as a Director during the past five years and to contribute in some small way to making this area a better place in which to live.

Our Chamber is a vital part of our community and deserves the support of every citizen in the county.

Sincerely, Frank Bond

All Ayes

A discussion was held on who could fill this vacancy. Various names were suggested, and this matter was tabled until the next Board Meeting.

The new Board Members, Mrs. Billie Forbes, Melvin Nielson, and Sandy Thompson were introduced and welcomed by President Alef.

President Alef asked that Don Jansen temporarily fill the chair of Chuck Kroll until such time as Mr. Kroll is out of the hospital and active in community affairs.

The next order of business was the election of officers for the ensuing year, 1964-65.

A unanimous ballot was cast for the entire slate.

President, Carol D. Wirt, 1st Vice President, Mrs. Sal Truettner, 2nd Vice President, Bill Tufts, Treasurer, Melvin Nielson, Secretary, Mrs. Marge Roper.

A letter was read from Captain Sims of the Ohio National Guard requesting information on the 37th Infantry Division in obtaining a full institutional membership in the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce.

Considerable discussion was had relative to the Annual Membership Campaign. In reviewing the results of the Board was very happy in the preliminary results of the campaign, and a note of thanks was given to Bob Strong, publisher of the Crawford County Avalanche, for the fine publicity and editorial that he has given this important endeavor.

Under the topic of new business, it was decided by the Board that the Chamber of Commerce-Office will be open 5 1/2 days a week until December 1st, back to 5 days a week, and then resuming 5 1/2 days a week during winter months to give complete service to any visitors coming into the office requesting information on winter activities.

Moose Lodge Activities

At the District Meeting in Manistee Sunday, the Grayling Lodge had a fine report to give. We are proud that our Lodge is "on the go", and still picking up speed at a fast pace.

The painting on the back wall of the band stand is nearly finished. Just a few finishing touches left. Dick Johnson should feel very proud, because he certainly did a very good job. We are proud of Dick and the painting, and owe Dick a lot of thanks. The painting is of a moose, with trees and water for a background, and covers the whole back wall. Several members have stated that they want to take pictures of it, so this Saturday, we will set the stage so that pictures can be taken, all day. We think Dick could humbly call this picture a masterpiece.

Several members plan on going to the U.P. Convention at the Soo, this coming weekend. The convention is from Friday thru Sunday. This Sunday also marks the fifty-second anniversary of our Lodge. Our charter was instituted Sept. 20, 1912. Today we have 232 members on our rolls. Our oldest member in age is Charles Smith, our oldest member of service is Alfred Hanson, who has been a Moose member for over fifty years. Albert Charron is an old time Moose member, and was secretary for many years. He also played a big part in getting the Lodge active again after it had been inactive for a few years. The old Moose lodge used to be housed in the upstairs of the building now occupied by Jansen Plumbing-Town & Country TV. The Moose lodge is fast becoming interested and active in community affairs, where it is a benefit for the community as a whole. It is one of the largest and fastest growing fraternal organizations in the world. It's proudest possessions are Moose Hart for Children of Departed Members and Moose Haven, in Florida, a retirement home for the elderly. Our dues are the largest support of these two fine places.

This Friday is Meeting Night at the Lodge. Also, there will be an Officers' Meeting.

Elk Silhouettes in Bugling Season

High on a hill overlooking their homeland in the Pigeon River area of the northern Lower Peninsula, a bull elk and his harem appear as silhouettes against the clear sky of a fall evening. This scene, caught by the camera lens of Conservation Department photographer Bob Harrington, tells of another elk mating season underway. This seemingly quiet setting was anything but that. Full-throated bugling sounds could be heard miles away as other bulls challenged this andered giant for supremacy over his small band of cows and calves. Throughout the elk country, these trumpeting calls echo over hills and valleys from late September until about mid-October, hitting their peak during the early morning and evening hours. For directions on where to see and hear this fall-tune spectacle, ask locally in the counties of Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Otsego, and Montmorency. —Mich. Dept. of Conservation

The average pay among 30 key hospital staff jobs this year has increased an average of 4.3 per cent over 1963, the survey showed.

Alan Barth, executive director of the Association, said 72 per cent of the Association's hospital members participated in this year's survey.

The average pay for the 30 positions was $376 per month as compared to $362 in 1963 and $347 the previous year. The study was limited to certain positions which could be related to the other job classifications being surveyed, said Barth.

Taxes on income remain a major issue with the people of Michigan, the current campaign reveals.

Several legislative candidates from throughout the state who went through a primary campaign report that one of the most frequently asked questions from their constituents was "Where do you stand on a state income tax?"

There has been no indication at this time that either candidate for Governor plans to propose a state income tax program next year.

There can be little doubt, however, that each will be listening to public sentiment about it as they travel through the state in the remainder of the campaign.

A reception at the Masonic Temple immediately following the ceremony was in the charge of the Grayling Chapter O.E.S., with Mrs. U'Harley Russell Mrs. Thomas Haught, and Mrs. J. L. Martin handling the arrangements. Flower arrangements about the room were designed by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ted Stephan; in the wedding colors. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a glabella graced the center of the bride's table. Lemon leaves surrounded the cake base and green tapers were on either side of it. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. T. W. Jewkes. The punch table had a center arrangement of bronze and yellow mums with flanking green tapers. Mrs. Marty Kitchell and Mrs. Gene Williams, cousin of the bride, served the punch. Mrs. Joseph White,

PONY TALES

By JANET W. OLSON

Your pony must learn, from the time it is a little foal, that you will insist on its doing what you want it to do. Each time you let him have his own way against your better judgment you are doing real harm to your pony. Your pony may need punishment at times and you are not being unjust or unkind to punish him if he doesn't obey. The more you let his get away with the more severe his punishment must be and that is unfair. Always be good to your pony, love him, care for him, but insist that he minds you. Never hit or slap a pony in the face. A pony, like a child, has a place to be spanked — use it.

Let's assume that you are riding and your pony does start to buck. If you sit straight and stand a little in your stirrups, pull on your reins with fast jerks and keep his head up. Never pull back in a steady pull for if your pony can duck his head you will be pulled right along. When you have your pony under control again dismount and find the reason for the acting up. Is the saddle or girth pinching, is his mouth sore, could there be a stone or hoof? If you find no reason for his behavior perhaps he is just full of pep and feeling good, but don't assume this with out checking.

If you are riding and your horse should suddenly rear it is best if you can lean a little forward, loosen your reins and take hold of the mane or saddle horn. Your horse is off balance on just his hind legs and any pulling on his mouth will just make him go higher. As soon as his front legs hit the ground urge him forward and for a few moments ride with your reins quite loose. NEVER encourage your pony to rear. You are not the "Lone Ranger" and a pony who rears often is not the pony for you.

If you have a pony that shies often don't pull on his mouth or hit him. He shied because he was afraid to begin with and if you hurt him he will be sure that he had a right to be afraid. Turn him to face what ever frightened him, talk to him in a quiet voice to reassure him and let him have a good look.

HINT FOR THE WEEK — Watch for those little yellow things that stick to your pony's legs and chest. These are Bot fly eggs and should be removed each day if possible. We have found that a safety razor removes them fastest and if you are careful there is no danger.

Flavor Mates
Leftover bacon from breakfast? Slices of ham from the last of a roast? Add them to stewed tomatoes which have been cooked with onion and green pepper and green beans. This has flavor plus!

Cooked shredded cabbage is excellent when sauced with cream cheese thinned with rich milk, a dash of pepper and some celery seed.

Two tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated rind blended with 1/4 cup melted butter and 1 tablespoon minced chives gives a delightful sauce for vegetables or fish.

A hearty lunch for a snappy day can use split pea soup, canned or homemade, with a slice of rye bread and a slice of bologna as the garnish.

Like clam? Dip them in fritter batter and fry in deep hot fat. Serve with tartar sauce.

Top rye bread with a sauerkraut-mayonnaise mixture, then with sliced turkey and corned beef. A slice of Swiss cheese can furnish the finishing touch. It's a meal in itself.

Helen's Favorite:
Macaroni Casserole (Serves 4-6)

2 cups canned tomatoes
1 cup diced American cheese
1/4 cup diced green pepper

1/2 cup butter or substitute
Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Add remaining ingredients, mixing lightly and seasoning to taste. Pour into well-buttered 2-quart casserole and bake in a moderate oven (325°F.) 45 minutes.

Plan Hearing Tests For School Children

"Save children from handicapping hearing loss."

This is the goal of a hearing testing program for school children in the District Health Department No. 1 area, which includes Crawford, Kalkaska, Missaukee, Roscommon, and Wexford counties. The program began this week in Roscommon county and will go from there to Crawford county.

The project, aiming to test the hearing of about all children, kindergarten through 8th grades, is jointly sponsored by the health department, the Michigan Department of Health, and the schools.

"About three percent of all children have some hearing defect which goes undetected by parents and teachers," said Dr. Georgia V. Mills, department director.

"A hearing loss," she said, "may cause serious behavior problems and failure at school. Yet, when hearing defects are found early, most of them can be corrected by prompt medical care."

Complete Summer Dental Program in County

Georgia V. Mills, M.D., director of District Health Department No. 1 reported that the summer topical fluoride program has been completed in Crawford County.

Of the 119 children registered in advance of the program 115 completed the series of four treatments. Out of this number 22 children were referred for dental care.

The program, designed to retard tooth decay, is sponsored each summer in the five counties by District Health Department No. 1 in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Health.
